For people of all ages, the unique HANDLE approach effectively addresses a wide range of learning, behavior, and developmental issues.

HANDLE is a gentle, natural, non-drug treatment modality, offering hope and help to those wishing to reach or regain their full potential.

"Here is what we have noticed in our son, after two weeks of his HANDLE program. He has a much greater level of everyday cooperation and ability to multitask after being asked only once. He has mentioned that he can 'listen better in school.' Little things we've always tried to teach him like saying 'please' and 'thank you' and not interrupting... he is finally unconsciously doing them! We are so pleased with the results so far."

~ Terry V.
